

UNIVERSIDAD AUTÓNOMA DE NUEVO LEÓN
School of Medicine

Course: Ethics and Culture of Legality

Semester: August - December 2024

Mission

To educate and train health professionals with academic excellence in the different disciplines of biomedical science so as to enable them to perform their assistance, teaching, and research-for-innovation work within an ethical, humanitarian and all-inclusive framework, with a broad spirit of service and social responsibility, a capacity for self-criticism, and the continuous updating of their knowledge, thus strengthening their integral development.

Vision

The UANL School of Medicine will be, in the year 2030, the best institution in the country in the areas of health services, education, and research. It will be a socially responsible, internationally competitive institution, renowned for its quality in terms of comprehensive education and training, its relevance in the attention to sustainability, and its scientific and technological contributions to the field of biomedicine on behalf of the various sectors of the population.

Interaction and organization agreements:

1. Teamwork will be performed throughout the Ethics and Legality Culture. In the first class, the professor will form the teams according to the attendance lists and will assign all the course themes. Likewise, the dates when the students will present the corresponding themes in the classroom will be set, using digital presentations, according to the learning unit (course) timeline and with support from the guide “How to make a good presentation?” THE STUDENTS WILL NOT BE ALLOWED TO SWITCH TEAMS. They will have to work with the classmates assigned by the professor.
2. Each participant will be responsible for doing the reading assignments prior to every class. If it becomes evident during any of the classes that one or more participants have no adequate knowledge of the assigned readings, the professor may set some exercises to encourage the revision of the readings’ contents (daily activities).
3. All of us will show respect to each other (See attitudinal competencies)
 - Any kind of offense, discrimination, or harassment is prohibited.
 - We will actively listen to the others.
 - Penalizing any breaches of the aforementioned items from the attitudinal competencies’ points will be left to the professor’s discretion.
4. All assignments copied partially or in their entirety and with no references will be considered as plagiarism and it will be voided. Additionally, no points will be credited for attitudinal competencies and the situation will be reported to the authorities as a case of academic fraud.
5. Evidence assignments will be turned in at the allocated time and date only and in the previously assigned platform or medium.
6. In order to take the post-course remedial exam, the students must submit all evidence assignments, following these directions:
 - If the student worked with his/her team, the team will lend him/her the graded assignments to submit them. Otherwise, the student must complete the evidence assignments individually.
 - The course evidence assignments are a mandatory requirement to have the right to take the remedial exam.
 - The exam will cover the contents dealt with throughout the semester. Therefore, the student must consult all the texts that make up the course bibliography.

ATTITUDINAL COMPETENCIES RUBRIC

INSTRUCTIONS: The team must meet and put into practice the 5 attitudinal values, which in turn they will evaluate in the performance of each team member.

1. The students will meet with their team and in a round dynamic activity they will evaluate every attitude in each of their teammates.
2. Each student will write, in a healthy self-critical spirit, in which of the attitudinal competencies they may improve.
3. The team will do an attitudinal competencies evaluation for the professor, which will be turned in independently and anonymously.
4. The professor will compare the evaluation done by the students with his/her own appreciation during the course.
